

RYEGRASS RUST ALERT

7/3/14

Several locations in northwest have reported leaf and stem rust on perennial ryegrass. To date, rust infections would be considered a light infection of leaf and stem rust. The most common areas of fields to observe rust are areas that were not sprayed with a fungicide and lodged areas of fields. Talk to your agronomist or seed representative for fungicide options for your specific situation. More information will follow in the regular newsletter that is scheduled for released on 7/8/14.